TAKING UP A NEW LIGHT.—Some of our citizens, with ideas of retrenchment, reform and economy running in their minds owing to the derangement wrought in the town's finances by the adoption of the Prohibition law are discussing the subject of piping natural gas from the Menifee county fields to use as a cheaper substitute for electric lights for street lighting.

It is probable that the pipe line company will be communicated with, and if the project is practicable it will come before the City Council.

COURT DAY.—A bright sun and a cold, searching wind characterized the last monthly market of 1905 here Monday. There was a fair crowd in town and a portion of it steadily hugged the warm stores in the business houses. The merchants could have done much more business than they did, but they are fairly well satisfied. There were only about 60 cattle offered and the trade was at the prevailing low prices. There was considerable activity in mules and horses.

COURTLAND TOOK ICE WATER.—Courtland Lee had nine fat hogs, one weighing 400 pounds, in a pen at Laughlin Bros' slaughter house, on the banks of Stoner, awaiting to be slaughtered. The heavy rain Tuesday night caused Mr. Lee some uneasiness about his hogs and he drove out Wednesday morning to look after them. He found the nose of his four-hundred pound hog just showing above the high water, the others having managed to get out. Just as the cold wave reached this section the brave and gallant Courtland could have been seen shedding his clothes to go to the rescue of his drowning pork-chops. Without hesitating he plunged into the chilly and muddy waters and after a hard fight with the swift current he succeeded in towing his hog to a safe landing.—Bourbon News.

SOLD GROCERY STORE.—The firm of W. W. Perry & Co., sold their grocery store to Eugene Brother last week and began invoicing at once to give possession. B. Frank Perry, the manager, is a sufferer from hay fever and for about half a year has been almost incapacitated from work by that ailment. He found by a residence of a few years in Arkansas that he escaped that trouble measurably and is thinking of moving there with his mother, Mrs. Alice Perry, to reside and engage in business. His brother Everett C. Perry, dentist, lives in Little Rock. The family has large landed interests in that State. The removal of these good people would be a distinct loss to the town's citizenship, and the people here will see them go very regretfully.

OBITUARY.—Died, at his home near Bethel, Wednesday night, Dec. 6, 1905, at 10 o'clock p. m., after an illness of 18 months, James Sanderson, aged about 13 years. He leaves to mourn their loss a father, mother, three sisters and five brothers. They have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community. Jimmie, as we always called him, was a good boy and was loved by his schoolmates and all who knew him. About 18 months ago he contracted a deep cold, which terminated in that dreaded and fatal disease consumption of the lungs. He bore his sufferings as few could have done; never even complained. He joined the Christian church in August of this year and was a true Christian until death. Now father, mother, sisters and brothers, weep not for him; God in his wisdom needed him in his work and called him from earth to Heaven. While he cannot come to earth any more you can go to him and be one reunited family in that beautiful home, Heaven. The remains were laid to rest in Longview Cemetery Friday at 1 o'clock p. m. and were followed by a large concourse of friends and relatives. Services by Rev. Wm. Irvin.

RESOLUTIONS.—Adopted by the Local Option People in mass meeting at Owingsville Monday, Dec. 11, 1905.

Whereas under the law licensing open bars for the sale of intoxicating liquors a state of lawlessness, drunkenness, debauchery and corruption has existed throughout Bath county, which has resulted in many of our homes, carrying with it poverty, wretchedness and crime; and whereas the evils of the open saloon have also invaded some of our country churches, interfering with those who assembled to worship God; and whereas we have it within the power of our citizenship to make a special appeal to our representatives, Hon. Wm. A. Young, to support the County Unit Local Option bill in the next General Assembly, and to the county officers that they make every exertion within their power to enforce the law.

Resolved that all of the anti-saloon people of Bath county be regarded as members of an anti-saloon league which stands for the enforcement of the law, and as such each one will take an individual part; that all who are represented by an executive committee consisting of three or more persons from each voting precinct and to include the preachers in the county, which will constitute the working forces of the league.

Be it further Resolved that the good citizens throughout the county make a special appeal to our representatives, Hon. Wm. A. Young, to support the County Unit Local Option bill in the next General Assembly, and to the county officers that they make every exertion within their power to enforce the law.

Respectfully submitted.

JAMES A. McDONALD'S DEATH.—H. A. Ford, of Salt Lake, writes that James A. McDonald, his brother in law, died of fever and kidney trouble at his home in Lindsay, Indian Territory, Nov. 30, 1905.

Mr. McDonald and his wife sold their property at Moore's Ferry, this county, in the winter or spring of 1902, and went West, finally settling at Fort Lavaca, on the Gulf coast of Texas. The spring of summer they removed to Lindsay. He was a robust, muscular man, about 60 years of age, and when he left this county was apparently in good health. His wife, who was a daughter of Squire Thos. Flood, deceased, of near Polkville, has for twenty-five or thirty years been one of the frail, old, most delicate women we ever knew. In fact, it was a wonder to her friends and acquaintances how she could be so feeble and survive even a few months, yet she has lived many, many years in that condition and outlived her stalwart husband.

Deceased was the only son of George McDonald and was reared and lived nearly all of his life on the home farm at Moore's Ferry. He was a good natured, obliging man, hospitable in his home, industrious and thrifty. His devotion to and care for his invalid wife testified his kind hearted goodness and loyalty. They had no children.

Of his father's family, there is we believe, only one daughter surviving. The widow has our sincere sympathy in her sad loss.

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.—Saturday Evening, Dec. 9.—Prices for leaf tobacco have been very satisfactory this week, and the market has shown considerable activity. While the last handling season did not bring in as much new tobacco as had been expected, for the reason that it was almost immediately succeeded by a cold spell, still offerings were rather large. The sales of new Burley this week, for example, were 1,546 hogsheads, as compared with 281 for the previous week, and the sales of new dark amounted to 138 hogsheads, against 108. Since the season opened the total sales of new Burley have amounted to 4,997 hogsheads, as compared with 4,855 last year, and the sales of new dark to 733 hogsheads, as compared with 100. It will be recalled that last year, or the season before, for that matter, the weather was not at all suitable for handling tobacco, hence the smaller offerings. The outlook appears to be rather favorable for a good business on the break until sales are suspended for the holidays, though, of course, the rush of the new crop will not come until after the first of the year, when for a time offerings may be expected to aggregate between 4,000 and 5,000 hogsheads per week.

The quality of the new Burley offered this week showed some improvement. There was not so much household tobacco as heretofore, and the condition was fairly only a small proportion of the offerings showing color, however. The bright grades were higher, and in good request and firm prices were noted for good to fine red leaf, while the other types met with excellent competition at unchanged prices. There were more color grades in the offerings of old Burley this week, and they sold readily. Competition on all styles was good, and prices obtained were rather satisfactory. The new dark offered was mainly unfired, and bought by retailers. Common and medium leaf brought firm prices, extra lengths were irregular, and trash and lengths were firm at the higher level of prices established in the previous week. Old dark offerings consisted of nondescripts and Green Rivers. Fired and export grades were in better request, but otherwise the market was unchanged, though active. Five hundred hogsheads of old redried Green River tobacco were sold privately to the American Tobacco Company.

Auction sales of leaf tobacco this week amounted to 2,185 hogsheads and private sales to 679 hogsheads, making a total of 2,864. Of the total sold 1,467 hogsheads were Burley, 1,546 being new crop. The sales of dark amounted to 927 hogsheads, 158 of which were new dark. For the corresponding week last year total sales amounted to 1,729 hogsheads, and for 1903 to 1,078. The sales since January 1 have amounted to 433,200 hogsheads, as compared with 192,018 for the same period in 1904. Rejections this week were 249 hogsheads, 181 Burley and 67 dark. The percentage of rejections to auction sales was 11.70. Receipts this week amounted to 1,618 hogsheads and from January 1 to date they total 34,752 hogsheads, as compared with 30,821 for the same period last year.—Courier-Journal.

TO BEAT THE TRUST.—Some tobacco planters are looking with favor on the movement started in Bracken county to pledge themselves not to raise tobacco in 1906. Every newspaper published in the White Burley district last week contained an article on the subject, and if these publications express the sentiment of the tobacco planters in the White Burley District, the crop next year will be quite small. It has been suggested that, inasmuch as the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association of Kentucky and Ohio was a failure, the tobacco planters meet at the respective court houses and draft resolutions, pledging themselves to refuse to raise or plant tobacco in 1906, and use their best endeavors to prevent the same from being raised in the White Burley District.

Tobacco statisticians claim there is a surplus and over production of Burley tobacco that is enough to run the factories for several years, and on account of this overproduction they claim that the tobacco raised next year will be a drag on the market, and will consequently sell at a low price. Tobacco planters, who have made a study of conditions, contradict these assertions. It is a fact, they say, that nearly all of the tobacco offered on the market is used annually, leaving but a small surplus.

In a recent report made to the Government by their representatives, who were sent over the White Burley district to study the conditions, it was given by them as their opinion that the only way the price of tobacco could be increased was by the planters combining for the
